

"AAUW advances equity for women and girls through advocacy, education, philanthropy and research"

Who we are...

The Saint Louis Branch of AAUW supports the broad goals and actions of AAUW by holding public outreach events, engaging in political action, collaborating with local organizations and educational institutions regarding AAUW topics, and by supporting area young women and girls directly. We promote a "You Can Do It" approach. We are one of five branches in the Saint Louis, MO, area that comprise the AAUW Metro Saint Louis Interbranch Council (IBC).

NATIONAL UPDATES

Action Network

AAUW Cheer: The CBS television show "Mom" opted to donate to Planned Parenthood instead of paying for an Emmy campaign this year. The $250,000 donation is intended to encourage others to donate as well.

AAUW Jeer: Female Supreme Court justices are interrupted more by male justices and advocates, according to the Harvard Business Review. The empirical study shows that male justices interrupt the female justices about three times as often as they interrupt each other during oral arguments.

BITS AND PIECES

♦ New data from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention shows that, for the first time, women aged 30 to 34 have the highest birthrate of any age group in the U.S. Access to birth control and fertility treatments, as well as the lack of workplace policies to accommodate new mothers, are cited as reasons many women are delaying motherhood.

♦ Penn State University will begin issuing fraternity and sorority "report cards" that will list each organization's status and conduct history. A response to several hazing incidents, these report cards will allow students and parents to utilize previously unavailable disciplinary data to inform their decision about Greek life at Penn State.

♦ The U.S. Department of Education is facing a lawsuit after denying a request to release data on pending sexual harassment cases. The National Women's Law Center (NWLC), the nonprofit filing the suit, requested Title IX data in January under the Freedom of Information Act, but their petition was denied by the Department.

♦ AAUW and other coalition partners attended a U.S. Department of Justice summit on hate crimes this past Thursday. Many hate crimes currently go unreported, making it difficult to study them. AAUW was pleased to join Thursday's conversation and expects the Department of Justice to commit to strong hate crimes prevention and enforcement as well as strive to end bias and bigotry in all of its work.
